

PAWSTAR MARTINI

Pornstar Martini

The Pornstar Martini is a 'contemporary classic'. Since its invention in Knightsbridge, London, in 2002 it has become hugely popular – rumour has it that the Duchess of Cambridge enjoyed a few of these cocktails on her hen do! This sweet and fruity drink consists of a passionfruit martini with a shot of prosecco on the side.

Martinis and moggies

The favourite drink of book and film character James Bond is a Martini (shaken, not stirred). Had they been invented before 1953 (when the first James Bond novel was written), we're sure Bond would have enjoyed a Pornstar Martini too. We're not so sure how Bond feels about cats, particularly white ones, as these may remind him of his arch-enemy Blofeld (who always had a white cat in his arms).

PAWSTAR MARTINI

Pornstar Martini

Ingredients

Serves 1

- 60 ml vodka
- 15 ml passion fruit liqueur
- 15ml lime juice
- Dash of vanilla syrup
- Two passion fruits
- Handful of ice
- 60ml prosecco

Method

- Scoop out the seeds and pulp from one and a half passion fruits
- Put a handful of ice in a cocktail shaker
- Add the passion fruit, vodka, vanilla syrup, liqueur and lime juice
- Shake well and pour into a glass
- Garnish with the remaining passion fruit half
- Pour the prosecco into a shot glass
- Sip alternately between the fizz and the martini

Alcohol-free version: replace the prosecco with elderflower fizz, the vodka with orange juice and passion fruit liqueur with passion fruit puree
